How to Use this Document

The maps in this pack are an optional alternative to the Building the Battlefield section of the Rulebook. This Map Pack has been created by seasoned tournament players to help players and tournament organisers create balanced and interesting Battlefields. These maps do not purport to be the correct or only ways to distribute Terrain Features and should not be taken as a recommendation regarding the density or type of terrain that should be present on tables.

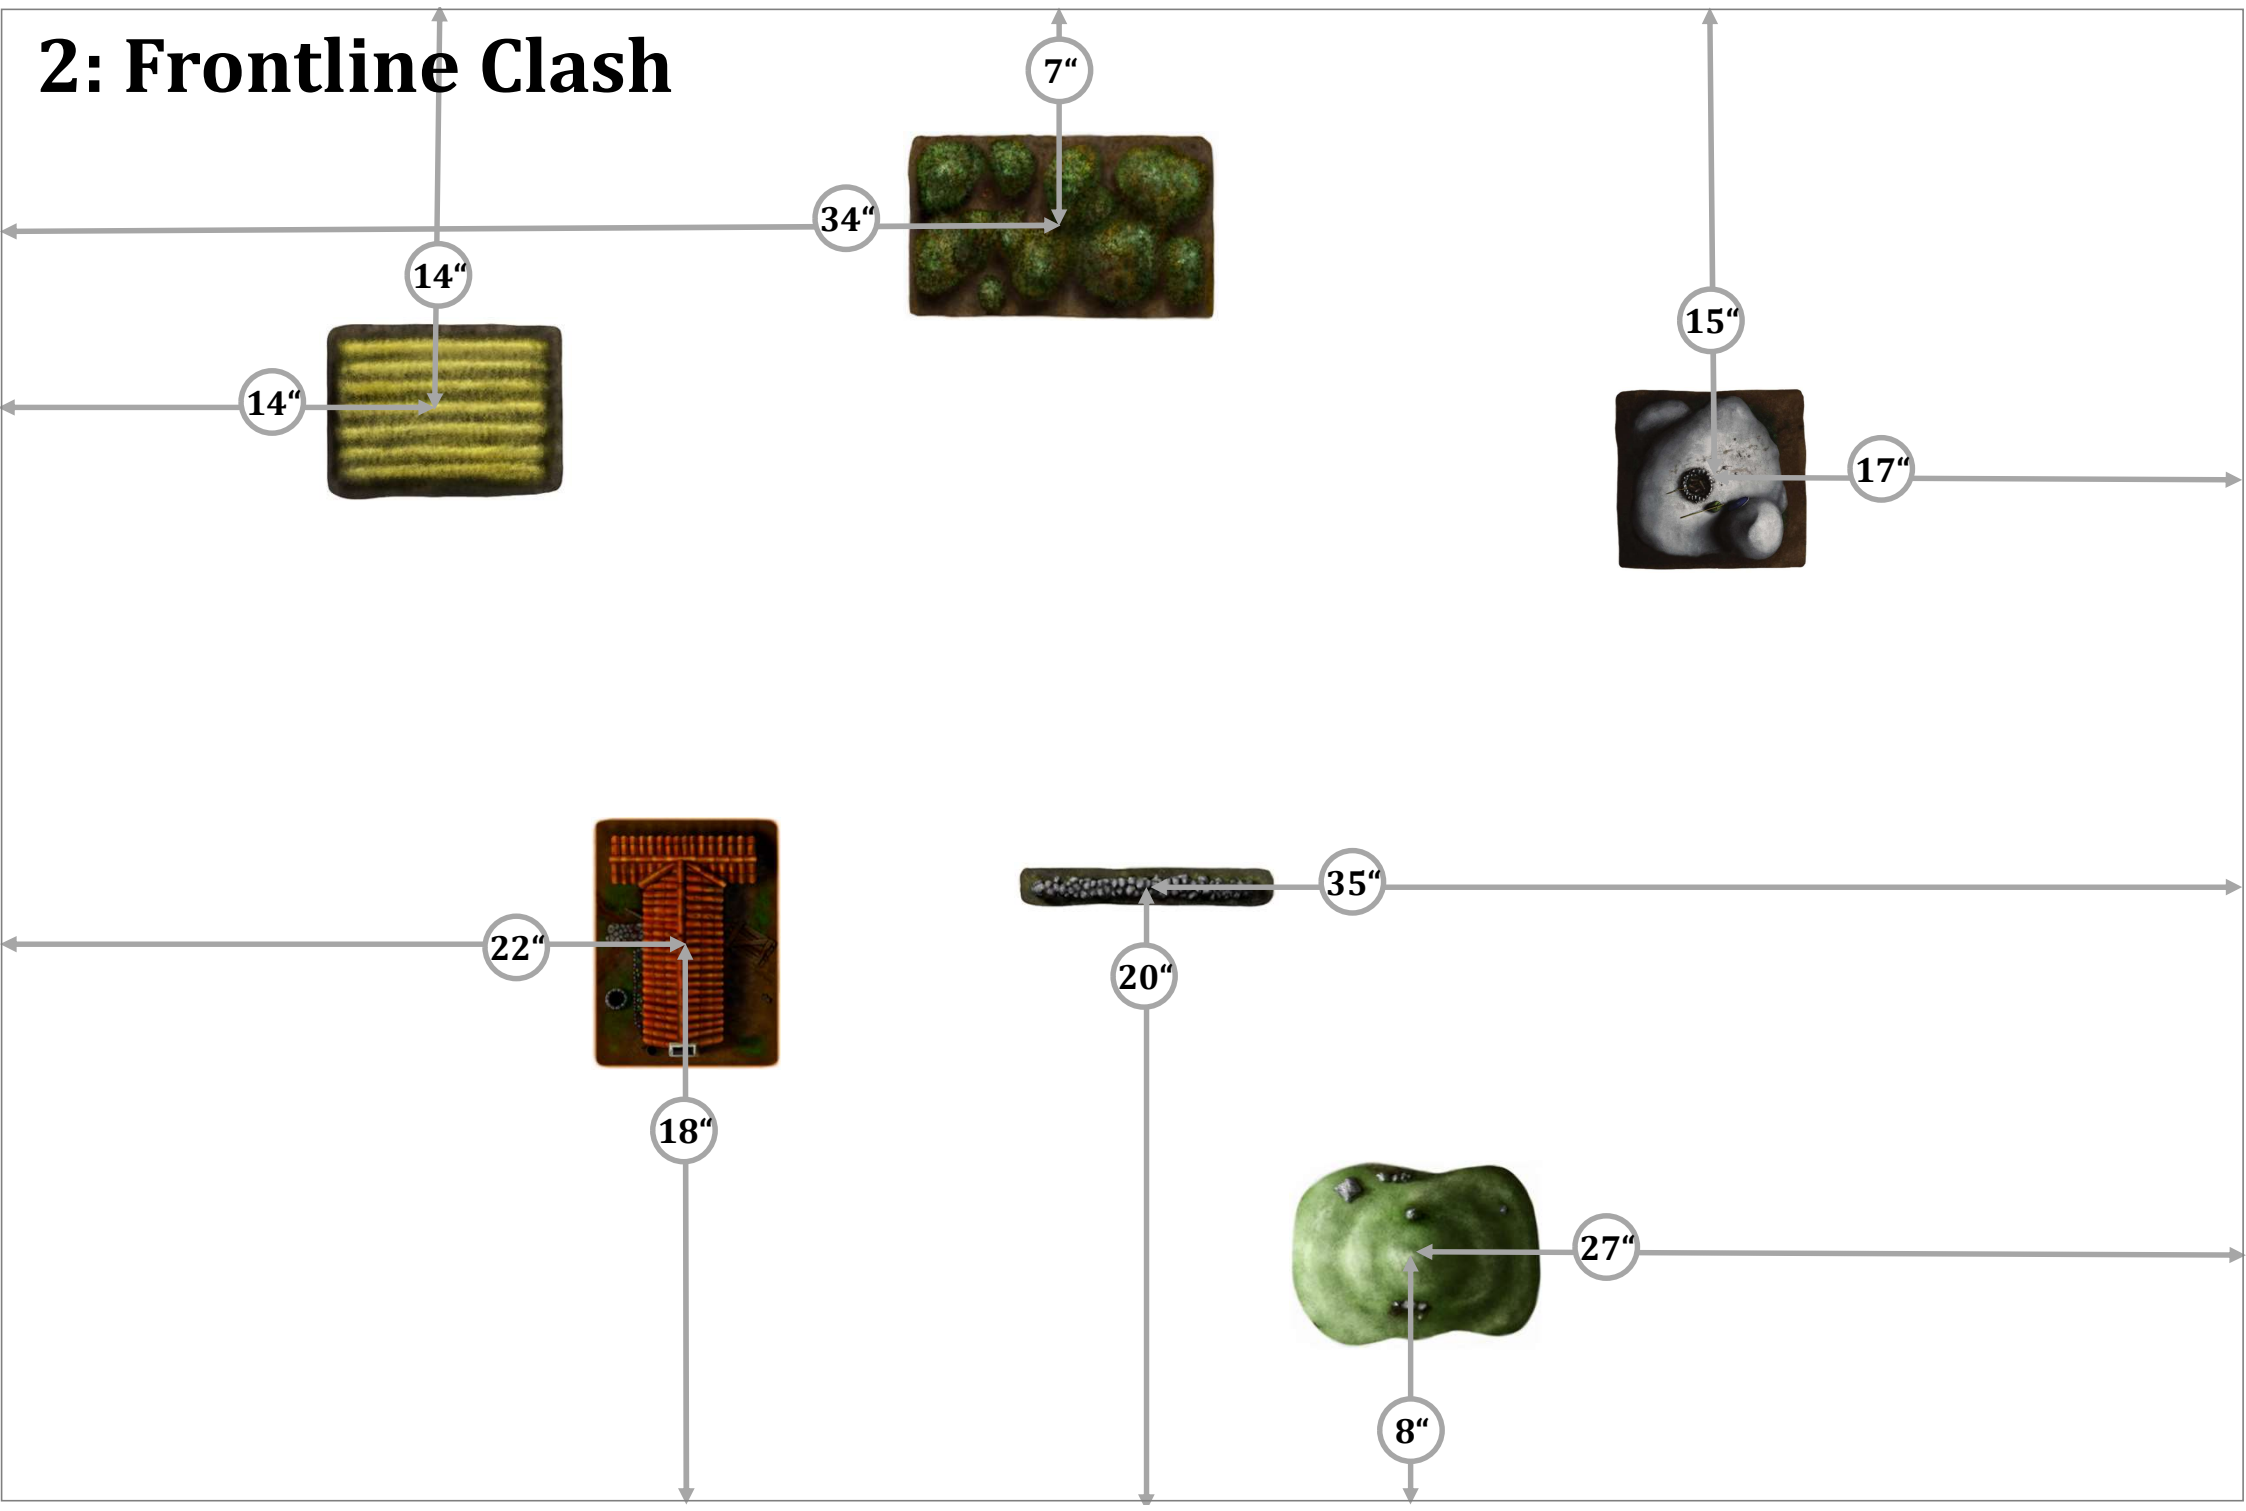

The following 16 maps are meant to be used for games with either randomised or predefined Deployment Types. If you use predefined deployment for your games, the following maps should be used with the Deployment Type defined below. For team tournaments, we recommend to use the maps as divided below:
